Resources + Representation = REAL VOICE & POWER

Resources The Census determines how and where billions of dollars of federal money is spent. Each person who goes uncounted costs Louisiana $2,291. As a poor state, Louisiana desperately needs every dollar we can get.

Those billions are used to build schools, repair roads, and provide healthcare. They help the least fortunate in our communities feed their families and get their children an education. Businesses use Census data to decide where to expand their operations, leading to more local job opportunities.

Representation Census data is used to redraw local, state, and federal political maps every 10 years. If your community is undercounted you will lose out on the opportunity to make your voice heard and build power in Louisiana.

Real Voice & Power With a full count, we will have the money and the political strength we need to change the systems that have been harming our communities for generations.

What is a Power Voter?

While there are many ways we can change Louisiana's system for the better, the first and most important is to become actively engaged in the political system. That means becoming a Power Voter.

A Power Voter is someone who:

- 1. Votes in every election
- 2. Holds their elected officials accountable
- 3. Takes an active role in ensuring a full and proper count of their community in the 2020 U.S. Census

What is the Power Coalition for Equity and Justice?

The Power Coalition for Equity and Justice works to build voice and power in traditionally disenfranchised communities. We are a coalition of groups from across Louisiana whose mission is to organize in impacted communities, educate and turn out voters, and fight for policies that create a more equitable and just system in Louisiana.

Your voice matters.

You have power.

Your vote counts.

Together we can create the change we need, and build a system that works for everybody.
